FINCA GOES GREEN

Finca Cortesin Hotel, Golf & Spa has taken its five-star golfing experience to new heights after becoming the first course in Spain to introduce a new, environmentally-friendly type of Bermuda grass to its greens. Renovation work to relay all 18 greens on its championship course, as well as the practice putting green, with a new Ultra Dwarf MiniVerde Bermuda grass began at the exclusive Andalucian resort earlier this summer. With the new grass being grown at a nursery in Plasencia, Caceres, Spain, disruption for golfers was kept to a minimum, with the course fully reopening barely a month after work commenced.

Finca Cortesin, who became a member of the European Tour Properties network in May 2017, joins some of the most prestigious venues in the world to convert to Ultradwarf Bermuda grass greens including Sawgrass, East Lake Golf Club and Quail Hollow – venue of the US PGA Championship in August 2017.

The resort has also undertaken a comprehensive bunker drainage improvement programme this summer to reconstruct its bunkers using the renowned 'Better Billy Bunker' system.

A three-time host of the Volvo World Match Play Championship, Finca Cortesin is set across a vast 532-acre estate and is regarded among Europe's most exclusive modern golf and lifestyle destination resorts. Complementing its Cabell Robinson-designed course are outstanding practice facilities including a state-of-the-art Jack Nicklaus Golf Academy, an elegant 67-suite hotel, Hotel Cortesin which has recently been ranked in the Top 50 hotels in the world, a 6,000sqm Beach Club, four restaurants and an award-winning spa featuring Spain's only snow cave.

MOUNT JULIET ESTATE

The Championship Golf Course at Mount Juliet Estate was designed by golfing great Jack Nicklaus and continues to be regarded as the leading championship parkland layout in Ireland. Set across the 492 acres of Mount Juliet Estate, this classic course has been the selected venue for three Irish Opens, two American Express World Golf Championships and the Shell Wonderful World of Golf series.

Mount Juliet Estate has just completed the development of a state-of-the-art Clubhouse to complement the new Paul McGinley Golf Academy. Following a round of golf, golfers can now experience superb food and beverage expertly overseen by Executive Michelin Star Chef Ken Harker in a luxurious, relaxed and friendly atmosphere.

The Paul McGinley Academy features the most advanced teaching software, including the Trackman 4e, allowing all aspects of the game to be developed and taught. All instruction will be based around Paul's playing philosophy and the instructors chosen will be selected and trained by the McGinley team.

Mount Juliet Estate also has a new fleet of top of the range golf carts featuring the newest smart technology available with the i3 Visage system – which gives dynamic distances to pins and points on course.

Finally, Mount Juliet Estate now announces the redevelopment of Hunter's Yard, which will feature 93 luxurious new bedrooms, The Hound, a 140 seated restaurant and The Stables, a private banqueting suite to accommodate up to 180 guests.

PGA CATALUNYA RESORT PUTS SUSTAINABILITY FRONT AND CENTRE

The home of Spain's No.1 course is heralding environmentally sustainable propositions as part of the destination's €53million development plan.

Having already implemented a more sustainable turf care process, the estate has also championed the use of recycled water for all irrigation purposes. This has resulted in better purification of water sources creating a unique micro-system of indigenous species of flora and fauna, which has seen the reintroduction of the indigenous Catalan honeybee to the resort. The protection and proliferation of PGA Catalunya Resort's micro-system forms a key part of resident biologist Oriol Dalmau's role, who shares his enthusiasm and knowledge of the local plant and animal life with the estate's younger residents.

The 36-hole venue has also implemented several Tesla charging points for its employees, residents and guests, as well as the use of alternative energy sources, such as geothermal and photovoltaic systems, which help reduce the resort's energy consumption. PGA Catalunya Resort continues to invest in its future and will see an additional hotel, caddy rooms, set to open on April 1, 2018, as well as new sports facilities and a man-made recreational lake.
