DID YOU KNOW? - AUSTRALIAN PGA CHAMPIONSHIP

- The Australian PGA Championship made its debut on the European Tour International Schedule during the 2016 season
- This will be the first of three European Tour events hosted in Australia in the 2019 Race to Dubai – ahead of the Vic Open and the ISPS Handa World Super 6 Perth
- The 2016 Australian PGA Championship was played at RACV Royal Pines Resort, the first time a European Tour event had been hosted in the state of Queensland. It has been played there ever since
- Nathan Holman won the event in December 2015, beating Dylan Frittelli and Harold Varner III in a three-man play-off. This represented the first three-man play-off since the Open Championship of 2015 featuring Zach Johnson, Louis Oosthuizen and Marc Leishman
- The USA's Harold Varner III avenged that play-off defeat in December 2016 when he became the first non-Australian to lift the trophy since New Zealand's Greg Turner in 1999
- Another play-off decided the winner of the 2018 Australian PGA Championship, as Cameron Smith beat fellow Australian Jordan Zunic on the second play-off hole to clinch the title
- The Australian PGA Championship dates back to 1905. The winner will receive the Joe Kirkwood Cup, the first winner of which was Dan Soutar from Scotland
- Kel Nagle has the honour of winning the event the most times, on six different occasions
- The last European to win the event was David Howell in 1998
- There have been two holes-in-one at the Australian PGA Championship since it has become a European Tour-sanctioned event - both came on the 185-yard par three fifth hole. Filippo Bergamaschi was first to seal an ace during the first round of the 2016 event, before the late Jarrod Lyle recorded the same feat 12 months later

DID YOU KNOW? - AFRASIA BANK MAURITIUS OPEN AT ANAHITA

- Former World Number One and four-time Major Championship winner Ernie Els will make his debut at the event this year
- In 2015, the AfrAsia Bank Mauritius Open made European Tour history by becoming the first event to be tri-sanctioned by the European Tour, Asian Tour and Sunshine Tour
- Since the AfrAsia Bank Mauritius Open's first appearance on the European Tour's International Schedule in 2015, the event has alternated between Heritage Golf Club and Four Seasons Golf Club Mauritius at Anahita, the latter of which will host the event for the second time this week
- Jeunghun Wang became the first Asian to win back-to-back European Tour events after the Korean's victory at the 2016 AfrAsia Bank Mauritius Open following his triumph at the Trophée Hassan II the previous week
- With his victory in 2016, Wang - aged 20 years and 251 days at the time - became the youngest player to win consecutive European Tour events, beating the previous record of Seve Ballesteros, who was 21 years and 119 days old when he achieved the feat in 1978
- The event is the first of five in the African continent during the 2018 European Tour season
- Javier Colomo made history in the event in 2015 when he achieved the first ever hole-in-one on a par four on the European Tour. His albatross came at the 329-yard ninth hole during the second round
